NAVMAT offers a number of training sessions aimed at achieving different goals. For example, you may only be interested in some basic fitness then you will select the Basic Level training or you might want to get into some serious training then you might select the Racing Squad sessions (noting that to develop the skills to race in regattas may require a high level of training commitment). For the experienced members you might want the challenge of the Representative stage then select both Racing Squad and Representative.

What level of training participation are you seeking to commit yourself to?

Basic Level (Saturday only)

Racing Squad Tuesday Thursday Saturday

Representative (ACT / Australian team) Additional training as required
